Answer to the question no: 1

Learning English vocabulary was very challenging for me because English is not my first language. While preparing for the IBA MBA admission test, I followed a regular vocabulary routine. First, I tried to understand the contextual meaning of a new word instead of simply memorizing its meaning. Then, I made my own sentence using that word. This helped me understand how the word is used in English. I also followed Sabrin Sultana's vocabulary videos on Word Smart 1 and GRE 333. I watched the videos three to five times a day to revise the words repeatedly. Each video usually covered 10–15 words, which made my learning easier and manageable. I also practiced from her book based on GRE 333 for beginners. I wrote down difficult words ~~which were~~ them in a notebook and regularly revised them. I found repeated revision and sentence making much more effective than memorizing long word lists. I would recommend contextual learning, regular revision, vocabulary videos, and sentence making to other students.
